

Committees within Psi Chi Honor Society

Newsletter Committee: This committee was reorganized in September 2013 as part of an ongoing effort to place a larger focus on and increase interest in our organization's publication, a newsletter-journal hybrid. The publication aims to create opportunities for students by featuring student works and listing of professionals in psychology-related careers who have volunteered to take on students for career experience.

Community Service Committee: This committee organizes and promotes volunteer community outreach opportunities for all Society members.

Brown Bag Committee: This committee recruits professionals in the field to give presentations at Chapter meetings throughout the year. For example, department faculty members from all areas of concentration are invited to present current research, and clinicians who speak discuss their clinical experiences. Students are encouraged to engage the presenters and are welcome to ask questions. Brown bag committee members also assist with the annual graduate student informational panel.

Fundraising Committee: This committee works to raise funds for Society activities and charitable organizations. Current fundraising activities include t-shirt sales, bagel sales, and local restaurant benefits.

Initiation Committee: This committee advertises the organization, evaluates prospective members, and organizes the annual Induction Ceremony.
